MARYVILLE LOSES SEC. G. A. PICKENS

ELECTED PERMANENT SECRETARY OF MO. ASSN. TODAY.

RESIGNS FROM C. OF C.

Will Becme Effective Immediately—Has Been Secretary Here 8 Years and Made Enviable Record.

Geo. A. Pickens, who for the past ten weeks has been acting general secretary of the Missouri Association and prior to that time, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, has been elected permanent general secretary of the Association. This information was received this afternoon in a telegram from St. Louis, where the board of directors of the association are in session today.

The telegraphic communiaction stated that Mr. Pickens had accepted the position tendered him and will resign as secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. His resignation will probably become effective at once and the general offices of the association will be opened up soon in Jefferson City.

The board of directors of the Maryville Chamber will probably accept his resignation at their next meeting and discuss plans for a new secretary. It is the intentions of the board to continue to have a full-time secretary and he will probably be elected as soon as a qualified applicant can be found. Mr. Pickens and J. Fred Hull, president of the board of directors, left for St. Louis last night.

During his work the past three months as acting general secretary, Mr. Pickens has been highly successful in his financing and organization work of the new association over the state. In his speeches over the state Mr. Pickens has declared that the association "knows no creed, no class, no politics—it has only an understanding of the problems pertaining to the whole people."

Mr. Pickens has made a most enviable record in community work during his association with the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. He first became secretary of the Maryville Commercial Club in April, 1907. After three years in this capacity he resigned to engage in the hardware business here in the firm of Pickens & Smith. After several years in this work and in manufacturing of light plants for country homes, Mr. Pickens came back as secretary to this organization in September, 1918 and has served continuously until the present time.

During these four years he has made a very enviable reputation for himself and for the Maryville Chamber over the state. Other cities in Missouri have looked upon the Maryville Chamber as the leader in community work and have given Mr. Pickens credit for the development. In Nodaway County he has always had in mind the development and practical application of the Rotarian motto, "Service Before Self."

Three years ago Mr. Pickens introduced the unique feature of giving his annual report to the board of directors in moving pictures. In this novel plan was born the idea for the filming of the Nodaway County Agricultural Film, which has meant so much in the development of a better community spirit and a better understanding amng the people of the county. Nationwide attention was directed to Nodaway County because of community feature.

Close upon the footsteps of this, with the idea of service still in mind, came the Rural School Day, agitated, promoted and sponsored by Mr. Pickens, which proved to be the biggest event staged in Maryville in years.

The successful filming of the school picture, "And the Truth Shall Make You Free," last fall, was made possible, only through the closest co-operation and interest of the Maryville Chamber and Mr. Pickens.

Mr. Picken's election to this new post comes as a well-earned reward to his work the past three years in urging the organization of state chamber of commerce or a similar organization such as the Missouri Association. He helped to organize the Missouri Commercial Secretaries Association and in 1920 was elected its secretary and in 1922 served as president of the state organization.

It will be a distinct loss to the Maryville Chamber to lose Mr. Pickens, but it has been fortunate in

LEGISLATION NOW BEFORE CODE BODY

LAW MAKING MOST IMPORTANT WRITES M. E. FORD

PLAN OTHER BRANCHES

All Phases of Legislation Being Considered in Constitutional Convention

Jefferson City, Mo., July 16, 1923.
To the Democrat-Forum:

For the last week the convention has been considering the article on legislation and displaying the usual lack of confidence in that body. Every state in the Union as well as the Federal Government itself is experiencing the same difficulty. Of the three co-ordinate branches of government, the law making branch should be the strongest. It should take the initiative. It should formulate the policy of the government. It makes the laws. The other two branches construe and enforce them. While it should take the initiative, the fact remains it does not and can not, under present conditions. Every legislative body in the United States is just a debating society. No debating society ever formulated a constructive policy and put it into effect. It can deliberate but it can not initiate. This is so apparent to all statesmen and students of government that no modern government has taken the Federal Constittuion as a model. Every new government in Europe has followed the English model or in other words, adopted the "Cabinet Plan." All the "Cabinet Paln" really means is that the initiative is taken by the small group of responsible ministers who compose the Cabinet. In our form of government there is no provision for a responsible cabinet. There is no provision for executive leaderships. When we get a strong domineering President who just assumes the leadership without authority, we get things done. Such were Cleveland, Roosevelt and Wilson. I am not saying they did the right things. I am only saying things were done. On the other hand, Mr. Taft had great respect for the Constitution of the United States. He refused to usurp the power that had been vested in Congress. He has been accused of lacking executive ability, which in my judgment, is not true. He has extraordinary executive ability, as he clearly demonstrated on many occasions and in many positions. But he refused to assume the leadership of Congress as he felt he had no right to do that. Having no executive leader, Congress did nothing and Taft got the blame. On the other hand Wilson adopted the Roosevelt tactics, took a club and drove Congress. There was a lot of howling about executive usurpation, but Congress did the things the President demanded. Having been one of the howlers about executive usurpation President Harding had to pursue a different course and leave Congress to follow its own sweet will. The result was the last Congress just milled around and bellowed, like a herd of thirsty cattle in a dry pen, and did nothing. It was rightly called the "Do Nothing Congress." But every other Congress has been a do nothing Congress that has not been driven into doing something. And that is true regardless of the caliber of the men composing it. For more than forty years Congress wrestled with the slavery question while all the time the country was drifting toward the rapids of civil war. And in those Congresses were Websters, Clays, Calhouns, Bentons and others of almost equal ability. Nero fiddled while Rome burned. These men debated while the fires of warfare and destruction were steadily approching. Fiddling would have stayed the flames just as effectually. We seem to fear a strong responsible government. And yet a strong responsible government is much less to be feared than a weak, irresponsible one. The latter readily lends itself to corrupt influences. A pure democracy is the most irresponsible and most easily corrupted of any. And it always leads to a dictatorship. History does not record a single exception. Russia is the latest example. And that is not because of the lack of intelligence on the part of the people. President James Madison said: "Had every Athenian citizen been a Socrates, every Athenian assembly still would have been a mob."

Responsible government means organization . and rganization means

Makes More Missouri Matrimony

The matrimonial business in Nodaway County has not yet been affected by the recent increase in marriage license fees in Iowa. On July 1, the state to the north raised the price from $1 to $1.50.

The fee has been $1.50 in Missouri for several years. The recent increase in Iowa is probably due to the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission prohibiting unfair competition between "the several states of the Union."

No longer will Nodaway County couples be compelled to go to Iowa to secure the official sanction, in order to save 50 cents on the initial cost of embarking on the matrimonial sea. They can come to the recorder's office in Maryville and get the whole thing over in a hurry.

Russia May Be Facing Famine

Riga, July 18—Following the departure of the last of the American relief workers, the official bolshevist newspaper, Pravda, today published a serious warning of another famine. Husband Kills Wife and Mother-in-Law

Waverly, Mo. July 18—William Plunkett, 36, shot and killed his wife, mother-in-law and sister-in-law here today as the result of a family quarrel. Plunkett immediately surrendered to the authorities after the shooting and was held in the mayor's office pending the arrival of the sheriff from Lexington, Mo.

Plunkett and his wife were quarreling when Mrs. Minnie Tubbst, 55, mother-in-law, and Miss Janie Tubbst, 18, sister-in-law, intervened, it was said. He seized a shotgun and fired point blank at the three women, killing all instantly, officers said.

A heavy guard has been thrown around Plunkett because of the fear of mob violence. Feeling is running high.

British Note to Germans Tomorrow

London, July 18—Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, is expected to communicate the contents of the British reparation note to the German ambassador, Herr Saint Hamer when he confers with him this evening.

A cabinet meeting was to have been held this afternoon to confer upon the reparation issue but it was postponed until tomorrow. The postponement gave rise to the belief that new proposals were being made to France by England.

The British note proposes an interallied commission to fix the sum of the German indemnity and to safeguard France to guarantee German payment.

It is understood that Belgium is bringing additional pressure on France in an effort to weaken the stern program of the Paris government.

Paris, July 18—France was informally notified today that the British reparation note would be received Friday.

This note, it is understood, will outline Great Britain's reparation's views and will seek to have the allied pwers reply to the latest German reparation offer with a joint commission.

FRANCE REPEATING GERMANY'S MISTAKE

BY PILING UP ARMAMENTS, DECLARES H. G. WELLS.

LLOYD GEORGE DONE FOR

Noted Historian Says Former Premier Can't Come Back—Has Lost People's Confidence.

Berlin, July 18.—H. G. Wells, famous British novelist and historian, declared today that he believed France is "repeating Germany's mistake by piling up armaments."

Wells also predicted that former Premier David Lloyd George will "never come back." He is convinced that Lloyd George has lost the old time trust that the people imposed in him.

"France is repeating Germany's mistake," said Wells. "Germany built a fleet too weak to be really dangerous, yet big enough to irritate England. Now France is building submarines and an air fleet. Neither in the long run will prove a decisive factor. Yet the building irritates England. It is creating a hostile feeling which disturbs the British peace of mind."

Mr. Wells said he did not believe the recent note of Pope Pius II would have any effect upon the settlement of the Ruhr problem.

To Check Up Mails at Local Postoffice

Maryville Office Will Keep Tab on All Business For One Month After Sept. 21

How much does it cost the Maryville postoffice to handle a letter from the time it is dropped into a mail box until it is placed on the train? How much does it cost to handle a newspaper, and how many letters and newspapers can be handled in a month? Eldon W. Irvin, superintendent of carriers, said today that an investigation would start here Sept. 21.

Blank forms covering every phase of postoffice work have been received from the department at Washington by 150 of the largest postoffices in the United States, and beginning Sept. 21 they are to keep a minute check of all the mail handled and the cost of handling it. This is the first effort of such a magnitude made by the department to obtain such knowledge.

Some idea of the large amount of detail that is involved in the undertaking may be gathered from the fact the instructions cover eight separate booklets each containing eight to twelve pages of closely printed reading matter.

The signing of the Near East treaty will formally end the war between Greece and Turkey, which caused a Ibrevolution in Greece and threatened a time to embroil Great Britain and France into a war against Turkey.

From the American point of view the most important feature of the treaty will be an incorporation of the policy of the open door and equal opportunity in the Near East. This was made possible by the insistent efforts of Joseph C. Grew, U. S. minister to Switzerland an unofficial observer at the conference.

Wood Promptly Accepts Cabinet Resignations

Philippine Political Leader Declares No Party Can Co-operate with Insular Government

Manila, July 18.—The sub-secretaries of the various cabinet offices, who resigned in a body as a protest against the undue interference on the part of Governor General Leonard Wood in the conduct of the officials, met today and agreed to serve.

Manilla, July 18—Although Manuel Quezon, Philippine political leader and president of the senate, declared immediately following the acceptance of the resignations of the members of the Philippine cabinet and council of state last night by Governor General Leonard Wood, that no Philippine party could be expected to cooperate in the insular government. It was stated today that under-secretaries would automatically assume the vacant cabinet posts.

Prompt acceptance of the resignations of the cabinet members came as a big surprise to the cabinet members, it was evident today.

Decides for Plaintiff in Contract Case

Suit Between Josiah A. Speer and J. D. Louden, et al, to be Appealed to Supreme Court

Judge John M. Dawson, who heard the case of Josiah A. Speer vs. J. D. Louden et al yesterday afternoon, decided for the plaintiff. The defendants, through their attorneys McCaffrey and Cook, will appeal to the Supreme Court. The appeal bond was fixed at $200 to be filed within ten days. The bill of exceptions must be filed before the next term of court.

As stated in yesterday's Democrat-Forum, Speer asserts that Louden agreed to buy his 330 acre farm near Elmo and made a contract to this effect on February 24, 1920. The consideration was $60,000 and Louden was given five years to pay for the land. Any defaults in payment of principal, interest, taxes or insurance were to forfeit contract of sale. A deed in escrow was deposited in the Clarinda National Bank of Clarinda, Ia.

Speer states that taxes, interest and insurance aggregating $1000 have become due since October 1, 1921. Speer claims that he has given notice of the defaults and that the Clarinda National Bank failed to surrender contract or deed in escrow.

He asked the court to set the deed in escrow aside and to declare the forfeiture of the contract valid.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

ABOUT COLLECTING BILLS.

A dispatch from Des Moines, Iowa, tells of the experience of a girl 19 years old who has started in business as a bill collector and is making good. She has decided from her experience, that there are no real deadbeats(but that all people originally mean to pay. Their failure to do so is due to troubles piling up so they can not meet expenses. The secret of success in collecting, she says, is in being persistent, and by keeping at the slow pay folks she finally gets her money. When she has been in business longer she will change her mind about there being no real dead beats but, in the main, her conclusions are correct.

Bill collecting is commonly regarded as a disagreeable job, but it is something that has to be done, and it performs a great service. Were it not for the pertinacity of the folks who chase after delinquent debtors, a lot of people would live far beyond their means. They would pile up expenses with little thought of how they were going to pay them. It is the natural thing to crave things one don't need and a large part of their living would be at the expense of trusting people.

People of that type need some one camping on their trail to remind them that there is a limit to all good things. They get into an indifferent habit of mind, and after getting in too deep devise expedients for keeping out of sight of creditors. They salve their consciences with excuses for dilatory ways.

To such folks the frequent appearance of the collector should have a wonderful tonic effect and spur them on to greater effort.

Everybody can get more out of life by keeping even with the world, and either spend a little less or earn a little more, so they can look the community square in the face.

THE MINNESOTA ELECTION

Choice of Magnus Johnson for United States senator from Minnesota to succeed the late Knute Nelson is a vote of anger and protest that should make the Harding administration sit up and take notice. The size of his majority is an indication of a protest rather than a program, and there is no denying that it is a protest that should shake the country into a realization of facts. There was no politics in the Minnesota election. The vote cast for the democratic candidate was almost negligible. Thousands from both old parties voted for Johnson.

Behind the protest and surging all about the cities and towns of Minnsota, rallying for Johnson were also the wild-eyed radicals and ascetics of every type who saw in their candidate a man who would stand solidly behind La Follette and do his bidding They did not seek a panacea for economic ills through any ideas or platform Johnson might enunciate, but they reckoned him safely against the established order of things.

But one inexorable fact is plainly shown: Mr. Harding has lost his working majority in the senate and, unless his appeal reaches the "irreconcilables" and the mid-roaders in an unexpected way, he has no promise of putting over his program in the next congress. The complexion in the senate is as follows:

Republicans 50, democrats 43, farmer-labor 2, republican vacancy 1. In the republican ranks are such men as Brookhart, La Follette, Frazier, Ladd and some others who would give him trouble, as well as Borah and Johnson.—Omaha World-Herald.

A Million Golf Players in U. S. and 2,200 Links

From the New York Times.

Beyond the end of a thousand Main streets, along the Mississippi and on the seaboards, the county road dips to the roll of the prairie; keep on between the rippled wheat and a little way beyond, no matter what the state that claims this Gopher Prairie, you come upon the golf links.

Take wings and look down on the country within a radius of fifty miles of Manhattan; count as you fly, and you will find 139 golf courses, one following the other so closely it seems as if a player might carry on from links to links for miles. Not a bay, bight or brook in all this sweep of country but appears in the bird's-eye no more than a golfer's water hazard.

Golf today is the first sport in America. Baseball is but a spectacle in comparison. What has brought this about in the thirty-five years since a few New Yorkers laid out a 6-hole course, and, though known to their gibing neighbors as the Apple Tree Gang, organized the first golf club in the United States and set about their conquest?

A Million All Told.

Today there are a million golfers in the land. New York alone can turn out from 50,000 to 100,000 in the metropolitan district. From coast to coast and from border to Mexican line, the investment in golf courses and clubhouses is between 100 and 125 million dollars. This season there are 2,200 golf links in use. Of that total between 400 and 500 belong to new clubs and have opened only this year. Three years have seen a tremendous increase in the number of courses; the next three will bring an even greater growth. There is hardly a town of 10,000 population throughout the Middle West which has not its nine-hole course or its plans for one.

Golf came to us from Scotland. The Scot is frugal, reserved, deliberate, taciturn, canny and—at least in his aspect to the foreign eye—dour. The American is extravagant and hurried, talkative, impatient, a shaker of hands and a joiner. Yet the Scot's favorite pastime, built up by him through centuries, has become the American's favorite game in a few years. The American, going about it in a businesslike fashion, has built up a golf industry the like of which was never disclosed to St. Andrew in the old chap's rosiest dream.

Congress Alone Can Dry Up "Wet" Sea

Maritime Powers Don't Favor Extension of 12-Mile Limit for Search and Seizure.

Washington, July 18.—Officials admitted today that they have virtually given up all hope of solving the ship liquor and rum-running problems by means of expecting the American right of search and seizure to be extended to the 12-mile limit.

More than three weeks have elapsed since the proposal was originally made to the allied capitals by Secretary of State Hughes, but as yet no replies have been received.

Led by Great Britain the maritime powers are said to be "manifestly unfavorable" to any extension of the 3-mile limit regardless of the reason.

Cognizant of this fact officials concede that with Congress alone rests the solution of the problem.

holding him so long. The work he is leadership. We always have leadership of some kind. If not official then unofficial. If the leadership is unofficial then it is irresponsible. In Missouri the executive authority is so divided up among different officers of the executive department that there can be no executive leadership. The general assembly is so constituted that there can be no legislative leadership and the result is unofficial, irresponsible leadership, if there is any at all. For years the R. R's dominated the state through the Hon. "Bill" Phelps. The only reason some "interest" is not controlling the state now is because the power and influence of the state has so far declined, the state has become so weak and impotent, that no "interest" will pay the price of its domination. If it would sell, all it would have to do, would be to buy the few "Bosses" of Kansas City and St. Louis and perhaps one or two in the state and the trick would be turned. If we had a strong and responsible state government one that would serve the people efficiently and effectively, it would not be ten years before all this talk about "State Rights" would cease. The states lost their "Rights" because they were unable to exercise them. If strong capable state governments were organized in all the states the states would soon repossess themselves of all their rights. But until they do that there will be nothing but talk. The state Nero's will continue to fiddle while the state Rome's will continue to burn and the Federal government will continue to usurp their power and authority. The present convention has a wonderful opportunity to take the lead in remedying this evil but they will not take advantage of it. Their fear of "autocratic power" at Jefferson City will make them add to the "autocratic power" at Washington. I have been accused of being a disciple of Alexander Hamilton, by some of the delegates, because I wanted to organize a strong state government. Hamilton wanted a strong federal government. Jefferson wanted to reserve the greatest amount of power possible to the states. I can not believe that Jefferson favored a weak state government for Jefferson must have known that a weak sovereignity was always an easy prey of its stronger neighbor. He of all men must have forseen that if the state governments were weak it would be sure to lead to a usurpation of their power and authority by the central government. But whether I would be classed as a Hamiltonian or Jeffersonian makes little difference to me. What we need in this country, above all things governmental, are strong state governments, strong county governments and strong city governments. Ninety per cent, if not more, of our governmental problems are local and can be better handled by local governmental machinery. To attempt to handle them from Washington is expensive, inefficient and inevitably leads to "Bureaucracy," the worst of all possible forms of government.

The convention has done something to strengthen the executive branch of the state government and seems inclined to do something to render the judiciary more efficient. The judiciary is the strongest and most important now. If the plans now being prepared are adopted it will become a unified and capable arm of the government.

The executive branch will be much more capable than it is now, though still disorganized to an extent. But what has heretofore been the weakest link in the chain, seems destined to remain as weak as ever.

The delegates have such a distrust of the general assembly they seem unwilling to give it life and vitality. The whole thought seems to be to render it as harmless as possible. It is looked upon as a necessary evil that must be hedged about with every possible restriction. In rendering it powerless to do harm it is also rendered powerless to do good in equal degree. This matter is still under consideration. What teh outcome will be I do not know. It seems to me the only thing to do is to go back to the cause of its failure and remove that. No state legislative body is giving satisfactory results. They are all organized on the same basis.

Instead of surrounding the general assembly with restrictions to render it harmless we ought to organize the legislative branch of the state government on a new basis. The legislative branch of government is not a necessary evil. It should not be an evil at all. It is the most important of all, in theory, and should be in fact. But it is not and cannot be, as at present organized. And it is not the fault of the individual members. Some of the reasons are potent to the most casual observer.

I have already used up too much space to discuss theso reasons now, but may do so later. I am still hoping the convention will do some thing to remove the cause. I fear it is a case of hope living eternal with but little to sustain it.

Very Truly,

Ralph W. Eversole to Head Local DeMolays

Officers Elected at Meeting Last Night—Members Discuss Plans for Annual Outing

Ralph Wilson Eversole was elected Master Counsellor of the local order of the De Molays at a meeting held last night. Raymond M. Barry, Jr., was elected Senior Counsellor.

Others officers elected were: Junior Counsellor, Simeon Wright; Scribe, Wilson McMurry; Treasurer, Floyd Cook. The appointive officers have not yet been named.

One delegate will be sent to the convention at Springfield next month.

The annual outing was discussed at the meeting last night. In 1921, the local De Molays went to Clarinda and last year to Omaha. These are usually one-day outings. The outing this year will probably be at St. Joseph, Kansas City or Shenandoah.

Preparations are being made to graduate a class of over thirty men from the local order of De Molays. These are men who have reached their twenty-first birthday. They will be given life membership cards.

A permanent degree team is being organized to put on the work for the De Molay chapter.

There are about 100 members of the local De Molay chapter.

now entering will, of course, mean as much to Nodaway County as to any other county in the state, for it is a statewide application of the community idea that has been so successfully worked out in this county.

Plans for the association for the launching of the "greater Missouri movement" are being rapidly completed, Mr. Pickens said recently, and when finished there will be 1,000 persons in the state "selling Missouri to Missourians and to the nation." When organized some months ago "for a greater Missouri,' a director of the association was appointed in each of the sixteen congressional districts of the state. Under plans announced here today each of the sixteen directors have been given charge of a group of counties. Each of the sixteen directors will appoint a county chairman in each county of the state and each county chairman will appoint five members of the association in his county.

Girls Play Some Exciting Basketball

Some very fast and exciting games were witnessed in the girls' basketball tournament yesterday. The Jameson squad headed by Myrle Alexander piled up the largest score in the first round by defeating Rio, captained by Norma Boyles, 37 to 3.

The King City team showed good basketball by eliminating the North Pole squad 31 to 2. The King City team was headed by Lethel Gartin and the superior playing of the forwards accounted by their large victory.

Savannah took the count of Timbuctoo 18 to 10. This was the closest game of the tournament and was hard fought.

Maryville was eliminated by Chile 18 to 7. The Chile squad was composed of Hopkins players together with Bruckner of Braymer. Maryville was handicapped by the lack of forwards.

The semi-final round will be played this afternoon.

The schedule is Jameson vs. King City and Savannah vs. Chile.

A Debutante—Oh, a bachelor has just never made up his mind to step out and off.

What is a cure for topping?

Answered by
JIM BARNES

American open champion, 1921; recognized everywhere as one of the greatest golfers in the world. In British open championship, 1922, he finished second, one stroke behind Walter Hagen, the winner.

Here is the big cause of topping—remove it and you remove the evil: Topping is caused chiefly by lifting the head and swinging the body during the back swing. Turning the left knee and the left shoulder slightly down and toward the ball will help to keep the head in the right position. Merely watching the ball is no cure for topping—the head must be stationary.

How may a beginner overcome fear of the water?

Answered by
BILL BACHRACH

Illinois Athletic Club; most famous and successful of all swimming coaches; has turned out champions such as Johnny Weissmuller, world's fastest swimmer; Norman Ross, Sibyl Bauer, Perry McGillivray, Harry Hebner, Arthur Raithel, Bob Skelton, and Mike McDermott.

Learn breath control. Fear of the water is the fear of strangulation which occurs when a drop of water attempts to enter the windpipe. By learning to prevent this occurence a sense of security is established. Strangulation can be avoided by inhaling exclusively through the mouth. Water entering the mounth can be expelled or swallowed. If you inhale through the nose you create suction which draws water into the nose and down to the windpipe. This causes the lid of the windpipe in the throat to clap shut, resulting in strangulation. An understanding of this process forms the basis of breath control and the overcoming of fear.

On Fall Buying Trip

Harvey L. Haines left this afternoon for New York City where he will spend two weeks in buying fall merchandise for his Maryville store. He will be joined in St. Joseph by his brother, C. S. Haines of Sabetha, who will accompany him to New York to buy for his store in Sabetha.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Late Telegraph News

Tulsa, Okla., July 18—Babies are literally rolling in the streets of Tulsa.

Policemen standing in front of the station were surprised in no small degree to see a 2-year-old baby rolling down the middle of the street in the path of street cars and automobiles. The baby was riding in a sedan with its parents when a sudden turn opened the door of the car and threw the child into the street.

And not content with falling out of the car, the child rolled clear across the street.

Drivers of automobiles and a street car motorman applied brakes suddenly, one of the machines stopping close to the baby.

Beyond a few minor bruises, the young "rolling stone" was uninjured.

St. Louis, July 18—Missourians are charged with being "road hogs" in a warning to motorists received here from the secretary of state's office at Springfield, Ill., where numerous complaints have been received from Illinoisans of being crowded far off their side of the black dividing line of the hard roads.

"Missourians are not the only offenders in this respect," Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois says in instructing his automobile investigators to watch for violations of the law and to make arrests wherever a driver fails to keep on his side of the road. "But numerous complaints indicate the violation of this law on the part of Missourian is more common," he added.

"I have noticed this myself," Secretary Emmerson continued. "Only a few days ago, I drove from Mt. Vernon to Springfield and met scores of Missouri cars. Many of these drivers wanted the entire road, or at least wanted about three-fourths of it. In two instances, I was compelled to drive off the pavement or be struck by their cars."

Columbia, July 18—More than 50 per cent of the engineers who are building Missouri's new highway system are graduates of the school of engineering of the state university, a recent survey shows. The Chief Engineer, B. H. Piepmeier; his assistant, his chief of maintenance, chief of bridge work, engineer of real aid, five of the ten divisional engineers, and more than half of the district engineers and draftsmen are Missouri University men.

Columbia, July 18—"Here's to the chigger that grows no bigger than the point of a very fine pin, but the lump that he raises burns like hot blazes and there's where the rub comes in."

So says an old unpopular toast.

But Professor Leonard Haseman of the entomology department of Missouri University, says the chigger is a blood sucking pest which attacks live stock and poultry and has the same unpleasant effect on them that it has on suffering humanity.

Kansas City, July 18—More than 1,600 applications from young men living in Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas for entrance to the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held in Fort Leavenworth, Kas., in August have been approved, according to Col. Fred W. Fleming, assistant civilian aide for the western half of Missouri.

"This number exceeds our expectations by 200," Col. Fleming said. "Military authorities had set 1,400 as the high mark, but splendid co-operation from civic and county officials in the three states enabled the number to be increased."

The camp will open August 1, and will continue for one month. Applications will be received at camp headquarters here until Friday.

Columbia, Mo., July 18.—Alumni of Missouri University are pleased at the announcement that Chester L. Brewer, former athletic mentor of the Tigers, will return here to assume his old position as Director of Athletics, succeeding Z. G. Clevenger, who resigned to return to Indiana University. Several letters of congratulations have been received from former students.

Kansas City, Mo., July 18.—Harvey Newman, secretary to the chief of detectives here announces that he has no long-lost cousins—he announces it emphatically; he has no long-lost relatives of any size, shape or description.

Harvey was writing reports the other day when a stranger wearing spectacles, a derby, and sideburns sauntered into the office.

"Ah, my Harvey, my cousin and little namesake, how are you?" and the stranger stretched with his arms to embrace Harvey.

Harvey ducked but the stranger came right back.

"So long since I have seen you. I am Harvey Nieman, your cousin from Chicago. Your papa and mama told me I could find you over here."

Harvey was delighted to see his cousin—especially when the amiable cousin offered to buy some cigars. But he had left his money over at Harvey's home. Could Harvey give him a dollar? Harvey did.

For nearly an hour the cousin was gone. Harvey called his father. Father broke the news that there never was any cousin from Chicago.

A pick-up order was issued for a stranger with side burns, spectacles, and a round derby. "He is working the old lost cousin stall," the report states.

Mr. Andrews is saving $79 a year and so can you by smoking "BULL" DURHAM

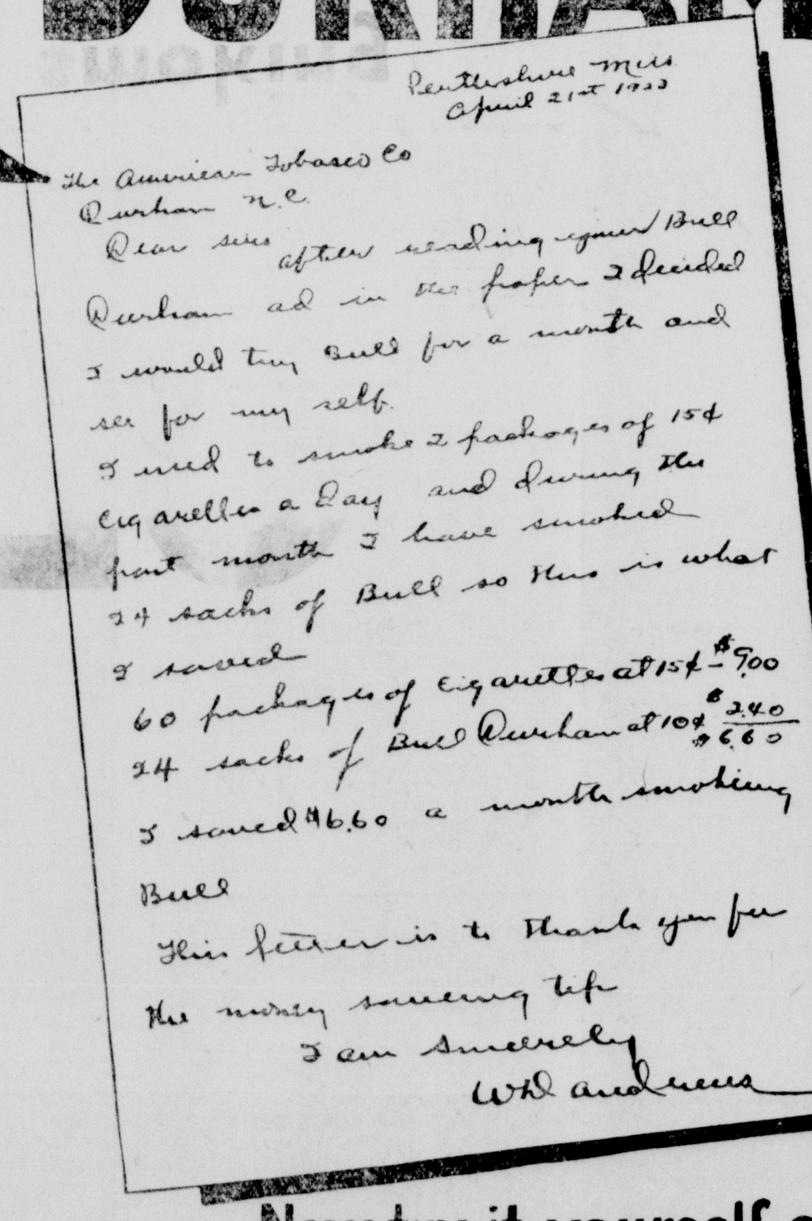
Read this



Pentershire Mills

The American Tobacco Co
Durham N.C.

Dear sirs after reading your Bull Durham ad in the paper I decided I would try Bull for a month and see for my self.

I used to smoke 2 packages of 15¢ cigarettes a day and during the first month I have smoked 24 sacks of Bull so this is what I saved

60 packages of cigarettes at 15¢ — $9.00
24 sacks of Bull Durham at 10¢ — $2.40
I saved $6.60 a month smoking Bull

This letter is to thank you for the money saving tip

I am sincerely
Wm Andrews

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham tobacco will cut down the cost of your smoking. Remember, "Bull" gives you 50 cigarettes of the best flavor and quality for 10 cents.

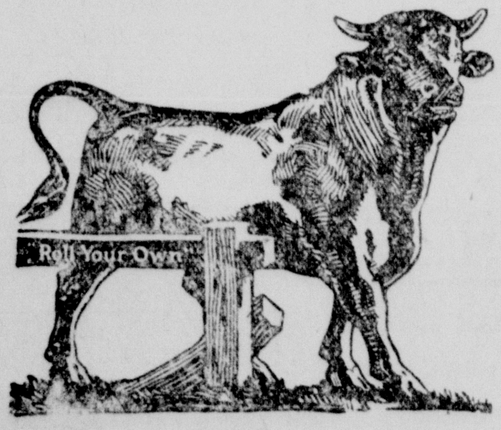
This means easily a saving for the average smoker of from $1 to $1.50 a week—$52 to $79 a year.

Seventy-nine dollars will buy lots of things. A radio set, a talking machine, a very fine suit of clothes, a set of tires, the first fifteen payments on a Ford, a good-sized insurance policy.

Hard to roll your own? Not really. Give yourself a chance to learn, this way:

Carry a sack of "Bull" in your pocket all the time, as well as your regular cigarettes. Every time you think of smoking a cigarette pull out your sack of "Bull" and try rolling one.

By the time you've used the sack you ought to be a fair producer. And you'll certainly be a convert to the mild, delightful flavor of "Bull" Durham tobacco.



With each package you receive a book of 24 leaves of BULLA—the finest cigarette paper in the world.

Now try it yourself and write us your experience
